Usłyszysz dwukrotnie rozmowę Logana z Emmą, którzy rozmawiają na temat swoich planów wakacyjnych. Zaznacz znakiem X, które zdania są zgodne z treścią nagrania (T – True), a które nie (F – False).

Emma: Hi, Logan. You look quite happy today.

Logan: Yeah, I've just learnt that I've won a free train ticket to travel around Europe on holidays.

Emma: For both months?

Logan: No. It's only for fourteen days but I can travel as much as I want to for the two weeks.

Emma: It sounds really exciting. Which countries are you going to visit?

Logan: Well, I've already been to most European countries in the West so I'm thinking about seeing some new places such as: Romania, Bulgaria, Poland, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia. What about your plans Emma?

Emma: Oh, I'm going to be a volunteer at a camp for children from poor families.

Logan: Seriously? How long for?

Emma: Two months. I've already worked there and I just loved it.

Logan: Isn't it tiring?

Emma: Yes, it is. There are days that all I think about is going to my room, locking it and sleeping for 15 hours, but I never have time for that.

Logan: So why do you do it?

Emma: For two reasons. First of all, most of my friends are going to be there. Secondly, although the work is a bit hard it also gives me a lot of satisfaction. You know, I can help people who aren't as lucky as me.

Logan: So it seems like we're both going to have a great summer. But before it happens we have to get to the end of this school year. Let's go to the classroom.

Emma: Yeah, you're right. Let's go.

Wypowiedź 1

When I was a little boy I wanted to represent my country at the Olympic Games. I started playing volleyball because my mum loved the sport. I was quite good and in primary school I was even on the school team. My dreams ended when I hurt my knee badly. I gave up my dream of playing on the national team but I never stopped loving the sport. Now, I'm a coach of my daughter's school team and maybe, one day, I'll see her at the Olympic Games.

Wypowiedź 2

Just 5 years ago I hated sports. I didn't do it, watch it or even talk about it but it all changed one day. I left my house a little bit too late and I had to run for 100 metres to catch the bus. I got on the bus and I saw myself in the bus window. I looked so tired that I promised myself that I would start running regularly. Today I'm waiting for my first marathon to begin and I couldn't be any happier.

Wypowiedź 3

I love being here an hour before the game to enjoy the peace and quiet. Just listen. Once the game starts, I always put all my efforts and energy into helping my team. They're not the best team in the league but it doesn't matter. Together with other fans, I support them singing songs, clapping my hands and cheering the players on the field. At the end of every game I get off my seat feeling almost as tired as one of the players.

Wypowiedź 4

Hello. I'm very happy that so many of you have decided to be here. Before I tell you when and where your children are going to have their first football practice, I'd like to tell you one very important thing. Remember, your children are here to have fun. Some of them may want to become professional players one day and play in the biggest stadiums of the world but a lot of them don't have such ambitions. They are here because they like to run, kick the ball, and enjoy competition and being in a group. And now let's talk about the financial aspects of...

Everyone, listen up! Before we start, I'd like you to understand that you have to follow my instructions. The animals outside are wild and they can hurt or even kill you if you get too close to them. There are no cages to keep them inside and you have no trees to climb if you want to run away from a rhino or some lions, so you have to stay in your seats and you can't leave the car at any time. Is that clear, ladies and gentlemen? So let's go.

Girl: Dad, could I get some money for the cinema?

Man: You got your pocket money on Friday.

Girl: Yeah, you're right but ...

Man: Have you spent it already? Weren't you saving for that sports blouse?

Girl: See, I am saving for the blouse but I'd like to watch this new film with my friends.

Man: Oh, and probably you'd also like to go to a café before the film, wouldn't you?

Girl: Well, but it's just a cup of coffee. Dad, you know how much I love you.

Man: Fine, fine. Here you are but don't ask me for extra money this month again.

Girl: Thanks! Bye!

Man: Have fun.

Tekst 3

Jacob: Hi Emma. How was your holiday in Athens?

Emma: Actually, I went to hospital for two weeks instead of Greece.

Jacob: I'm sorry to hear that. What happened?

Emma: I was walking my dog and I twisted my ankle.

Jacob: And you had to go to hospital because of that?

Emma: No, but when the doctor looked at my blood tests she noticed that there was something wrong with my heart and blood pressure so she kept me in hospital to see if it was dangerous.

Jacob: Oh my! It sounds really bad.

Emma: Luckily, it wasn't. They didn't find anything serious and let me go home.

Jacob: Good for you. Now ...

Tekst 4

Alice: Sam, why are you so sad?

Sam: Well, I've got some problems with my boyfriend.

Alice: Have you broken up?

Sam: No, but he's very unhappy when I talk to other boys.

Alice: Oh, so he's jealous.

Sam: He says he's not jealous but he's afraid I'll choose somebody else.

Alice: Come on. You're too smart to believe it.

Sam: Yeah, maybe. But what can I do?

Alice: Tell him how you feel and if he doesn't change, break up.

Sam: But he's really nice when we're alone.

Alice: Just think about it. I have to run. Bye.

Sam: Bye.

Arthur Smith's latest book is a great novel, which takes the reader on a sad journey connected with leaving one's hometown forever. It has already been filmed and turned into a play. The stage version of the story is just as brilliant as the original. The film, however, isn't as good as one might expect. The dialogues are rather long and boring, the acting is definitely uninspiring and the ending, which in the book is absolutely fantastic, is simply bad.

The next station is King's Bridge. This is the final stop. Please make sure that you have taken all your luggage with you. Passengers travelling to the airport can take a train from Platform 3 or bus number 73 – the bus stop is outside the station. We hope you have enjoyed your journey and that you will choose Southgate Railway in the future again. Thank you.
