2) Choose the two adjectives which best complete each sentence.

- 1 It is very kind / polite / confident to give your seat to an elderly person on the bus.
- 2 He's very hard-working / ambitious / lazy and always does well in tests.
- 3 You can really trust him – he's the most honest / sociable / reliable person I know.
- 4 You can't be shy / funny / modest if you want to have a career in the show business.
- 5 If you are sensitive / rude / nasty to people, nobody will like you.
- 6 Chuck is always helpful / friendly / bossy – that's why he's got so many friends.

3) Complete the sentences with the missing words.

- 1 Don't trust him – he's the most d i s h o n e s t person I know.
- 2 Sara is so t a l k a t i v e – in fact, she never stops talking.
- 3 Tim is very m o d e s t as he never tells anybody about his medals.
- 4 You need to be really c l e v e r to study medicine and become a doctor.
- 5 It's time to stop being so n a s t y to each other – say sorry and try to forget all the bad things you've said.
- 6 You need to be p a t i e n t to work with small children.
- 7 My older sister is very b o s s y – she keeps telling everybody what to do.
- 8 When she entered the exam room, she was very c o n f i d e n t, but this soon changed when she read the questions.

4) Complete the text with the missing words.

This is a picture of me and my best friend, Lilly. She's the best! She's ¹funny and makes me laugh all the time. She's also very ²polite – she always says 'good morning' to the teachers at school. She's a very ³sociable person – she's got almost 2000 friends on Facebook and she goes out a lot. I think that Lilly's also a very ⁴ambitious person – she studies hard and when she gets a bad grade, she always retakes the test. What I find a bit annoying is that she's sometimes too ⁵sensitive – for example, she always cries during sad films. She can be quite ⁶mean, too. For example, she doesn't like lending things. Still, I can't imagine a better friend.

5) Find and correct a mistake in each sentence.

- 1 As far ~~fer~~ as the bad points, I must admit I'm rather quiet.
- 2 Remember to always tell the truth.
- 3 I can be quite nasty at ~~the~~ times.
- 4 You know what they say – you can't ~~tell~~ judge a book by its cover!
- 5 He tends to be lazy.
- 6 We shouldn't trust ~~firstly~~ impressions, as they're often false.

6) Complete the sentences with appropriate adjectives.

- 1 I'm quite moody I can get angry for no reason.
- 2 Sally was very jealous when she saw her boyfriend with another girl.
- 3 Mark is quite rebellious and often argues with his parents.
- 4 I think I'm usually quite broad-minded and try to respect other people's view.
- 5 Ruth always tries to understand how other people feel – she's very sympathetic.

7) Describe somebody you admire. Write 4–5 sentences.

Students' own answers

1) Read the text and choose the correct answer.

My favourite TV series is about a group of friends who go to the same private school, but come from different parts of the city. One of them, Nicky, is a very clever girl from a poor family. In the past she was ambitious and hard-working, so she got a scholarship to study at the school. Unfortunately, last year she became friends with the wrong kind of people and she isn't a good student any longer. Nicky may have problems as a result – if her marks don't get better, she will have to leave the school!

Nicky has problems at school, because

- a her parents can't afford to pay for her school.
- b she doesn't study hard enough.
- c her friends no longer like her.

2) MP3 01 Listen to a film director talking about the characters in a new TV series. Choose the correct answers.

- 1 Charlie has problems at school, because
 - a he's always rude to his teachers.
 - b he doesn't work very hard at school.
 - c the teachers think he isn't very clever.
- 2 Which sentence is true about Ella?
 - a She is beautiful but not very clever.
 - b She comes from a family with a large fortune.
 - c She doesn't tell the truth about her parents.
- 3 Which sentence is true about Sophie?
 - a She is very reliable.
 - b She's never stressed about anything.
 - c She is clever and popular like Ella.
- 4 The film director
 - a is explaining how to play each character.
 - b is talking about the details of the story.
 - c is describing the characters in the series.

3) Match the phrases (1-5) with their Polish equivalents (a-e).

- | | | |
|-----------------------|----------|-----------------------|
| 1 waste of time | d | a zawieść kogoś |
| 2 top marks | c | b dotrzymać tajemnicy |
| 3 keep a secret | b | c najlepsze oceny |
| 4 care about somebody | e | d strata czasu |
| 5 let somebody down | a | e dbać o kogoś |

4) Translate the Polish parts of the sentences into English. Use the correct form of the expressions from exercise 3.

- 1 Martha always gets top marks (dostaje najlepsze oceny) and helps other students with their homework.
- 2 Don't tell him anything private. He can't keep a secret (nie potrafi dotrzymać tajemnicy).
- 3 Paula is my best friend and she never lets me down (nigdy mnie nie zawodzi) when I need her.
- 4 Do you really think school is a waste of time (to strata czasu)?
- 5 Tim doesn't care about (nie dba o) his friends and he's not at all loyal.

6) Find and correct a mistake in each sentence.

- 1 Kate's usually the ~~middle~~ centre of attention wherever she goes.
- 2 I hope you will never let me ~~up~~ down.
- 3 Kelly is a very good student and never gets into ~~problems~~ trouble.
- 4 I'm sure we can rely ~~to~~ on him in every situation.
- 5 I don't think Mary can ~~hold~~ keep a secret yet I've known her for years.
- 6 I don't know her very well and I don't trust ~~she~~ her.

7) Answer the questions. Students' own answers

- 1 In what situations do you usually feel stressed?

- 2 What are you proud of?

- 3 What do you feel is a waste of time?

- 4 Do you know anybody who doesn't care about their schoolwork? Who is it?

- 5 Which situations make you embarrassed?

Present simple and present continuous

Czasu present simple używamy, aby opisać:

- czynności i sytuacje rutynowe:
He often reads in the evenings.
- sytuacje stałe, niezmiennie:
Jane lives in New York.

W zdaniach w czasie present simple używamy często następujących wyrażen:

- a never, hardly ever, rarely, sometimes, often, usually, always.
Określenia te występują w zdaniu przed czasownikiem głównym i po czasownikach posiłkowych:

- Mark and his dad ~~is~~ are watching TV.
- Kevin ~~once a month~~ visits his grandparents once a month.
- I am meeting Joe tomorrow evening.
- Look at Mike! He's carrying such a heavy bag.

- 4) Write questions in order to ask about the missing information. Then complete the gaps in the text with your own ideas.

Diego is a very successful businessman and he works for ¹a building company. He earns a lot of money, so he lives in a ²large apartment in the town centre. He usually goes to ³the swimming pool in the afternoon but tonight he's working on ⁴a new project. He's meeting ⁵an architect from Japan tomorrow and he has to prepare ⁶a presentation.

He usually works very hard and so he is often tired, but next week he's going away on holiday to ⁷Barbados. He's looking forward to it very much. Unfortunately, his girlfriend isn't going with him because ⁸she is busy at work and Diego feels very ⁹uncomfortable about the situation.

- 1 What company does Diego work for?
- 2 Where does he live?
- 3 Where does he usually go in the afternoon?
- 4 What is he working on tonight?
- 5 Who is he meeting tomorrow?
- 6 What does he have to prepare?
- 7 Where is he going on holiday?
- 8 Why isn't his girlfriend going with him?
- 9 How does Diego feel about the situation?

- 5) Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Use the present simple or present continuous.

- 1 Do you know anybody who comes from (come from) Ireland?
- 2 Quiet, please! Can't you see I am watching (watch) TV?
- 3 My classmates meet (meet) twice a week after school.
- 4 What does she do (she/do) in her free time?

- 5 Haven't you heard? Bella and Ray are going (go) on a date tonight!
- 6 Do you like (you/like) your new school, Mike?
- 7 Next month my favourite band are/is giving (give) a concert in Warsaw – I have to go!
- 8 Polly doesn't surf (not surf) the Net often, she thinks it's a waste of time.

- 6) Complete the text with the correct form of the verbs below.

live do take plan not say attend take part learn come stay

The boy in the picture is my Polish friend, Adam. He ¹lives in Katowice, but, at the moment, he ²is staying in Berlin, where he ³is taking part in the Socrates programme. He's very ambitious and ⁴takes his schoolwork seriously. He always ⁵does his homework on time and also ⁶attends many courses after school. For example, he ⁷is learning Chinese at the moment. I like him, because he's got a great sense of humour. Although Adam is rather shy and ⁸doesn't say much most of the time, his jokes are really great. I can't wait to see him. He ⁹is coming to visit next weekend and right now I ¹⁰am planning our time together.

- 7) Complete the sentences with your own ideas.

Students' own answers

- 1 On Sundays I often _____.
- 2 I hardly ever _____.

Verb+ -ing form / infinitive

Bezokolicznika (infinitive) ze słowem to używamy:

- po większości czasowników i zwrotów oznaczających plany, decyzje, wolę, zamjary, np. want, would like, plan, decide:
I'm planning to take Spanish classes this year.
- po takich czasownikach jak: agree, refuse, offer, promise, hope:
She promised to buy something for dinner.

Czasownika z końcówką -ing (gerund) używamy:

- po czasownikach wyrażających emocje, np. like, love, hate, can't stand, enjoy, don't mind:
I love listening to rock music.
- po czasownikach i wyrażeniach zawierających przyimek, np. keen on, look forward to:
We were keen on seeing the concert.
- po niektórych czasownikach i zwrotach, np. continue, spend time, suggest:
Mark spent a lot of time practising before the show.

Grammar challenge! >> Student's Book, page 108, UNIT 1

Po niektórych czasownikach możemy użyć zarówno bezokolicznika, jak i czasownika z końcówką -ing, należy pamiętać jednak, że wybór formy czasownika ma wpływ na znaczenie wypowiedzi:

- a I met them at the theatre, so we stopped to talk for a while. (Spotkałem/Spotkałam ich w teatrze, więc zatrzymaliśmy się, żeby porozmawiać przez chwilę.)
- b We stopped talking when the film started. (Przestaliśmy rozmawiać, kiedy zaczął się film.)

1 b

If, like me, you're an Avengers fan, then you love watching these powerful men and women fighting evil. Even if modesty isn't usually their strong point and their pride gets them in trouble, their friendliness, humour or good looks make us love them. But did you know your favourite characters have many more adventures in the hundreds of comic books on which Marvel films are based? Some of these comics are over 80 years old! Here are a couple of other facts about the Avengers and how it all started.

2 e

One of the oldest characters is Captain America – the first book about him came out in 1941, when Marvel was just the name of a series of comic books, not of a huge entertainment company. Like many superheroes that follow (e.g. Iron Man or Ant-Man), Captain America is a human who gets his superpowers through scientific experiments. Not all of the Avengers, however, are mutated people. Thor and Loki, big screen favourites, are not of this Earth, but they often get involved in superhero adventures on our planet, so they're also part of this team.

3 c

There are many superheroes, but not all are the Avengers. The Avengers exists thanks to Jane van Dyne and Henry Hank Pym. His scientific creativity lead him to discover a substance which makes people change size. That's how Jane and Hank become the Wasp and the Ant-Man. When the two heroes form a team with other superheroes, the Wasp, because of her intelligence, becomes their leader and calls them the Avengers. The Wasp and the Ant-Man have a complicated romance. When the Ant-Man becomes bossy and nasty, Jane stops trusting him. It takes a lot of time before she can believe his loyalty again. Interested? More on the bookshelves!

4 a

Of course, superheroes usually fight against antiheroes. However, some of their own team members must be carefully watched as well... Two good examples are Loki and Hulk. Loki is known for his egoism and dishonesty. His ambition to sit on the throne of his father, Odin, makes him jealous of Thor, who is Odin's favourite son and always the centre of attention. That's why Loki spends his life scheming against Thor. Hulk is a human who after an accident with radiation turns into a nasty giant whenever he gets stressed or angry. He usually fights side by side with the Avengers, but there are books in which he gets so bad that they have to fight against him. Unfortunately, because Hulk is not very clever, he is also often used by the bad guys.

SO IF YOU'RE A TRUE SUPERHEROES FAN – DON'T LET YOUR LAZINESS LIMIT YOU TO ONLY WATCHING MOVIES – GO GET THE COMIC BOOKS AND START READING. :)

3> Read the text on page 9 again and find nouns made from the adjectives below.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1 ambitious ambition | 6 egotistical egotism |
| 2 creative creativity | 7 lazy laziness |
| 3 dishonest dishonesty | 8 loyal loyalty |
| 4 friendly friendliness | 9 modest modesty |
| 5 intelligent intelligence | |

4> Complete the text with the correct form of the words from exercise 3.

Some people love dogs, others prefer cats. Cat lovers say that cats are very ¹intelligent while dogs are stupid. Dog lovers answer, 'Cats are very ²dishonest – you can't trust them. A dog, on the other hand is a symbol of ³loyalty – when a dog becomes your friend, he or she will be your friend forever. In comparison, cats only love themselves. They are famous for their ⁴egotism – they believe they are the centre of the world. Oh, and their ⁵laziness is also a common feature. They simply sleep all day, while dogs run, go for walks and love playing.' To answer all this criticism I can honestly say that my cat goes out every day (on the balcony for at least 5 minutes).

6> Choose the correct preposition to complete each sentence. Then choose two of the questions and write answers so that they are true for you.

- Are many of your friends interested for / in social networking?
- Are there any hobbies that you are mad about / at?
- Are teenagers keen on / at reading?
- Is anybody in your family a fan of / for extreme sports?
- Do you know anybody who is for / into role-playing games?
- Is it true that young people prefer social networking to / of meeting people in person?
- How many people that you know are fond about / of classical music?

7> Complete the text with appropriate verbs in the correct form.

I need to ¹take up a new hobby. I often ²go clubbing with my friends on Saturday, but I'd like to try something different. But what? I tried fishing once, but I ³got bored with it very quickly. I ⁴find fantasy stories boring and cryptozoology is not for me, either. My family is very active and everybody ⁵does some kind of sport. So maybe sports? But nobody wants to run with me and I don't want to ⁶go running alone because it's also boring. My mother and sister love aerobics but I prefer ⁷doing yoga, because it relaxes both mind and body, but I don't want to practise alone! Maybe I should just join the school board games club – I love ⁸playing games!

Dear Abby,

I need your help with a problem that I have with Sally – my daughter, who's now 16. I'm sure there are thousands of other parents out there who are in the same situation. Right now, my teenage daughter ¹is going through that period in her life when she hates everything about me. She's become quite ²rebellious and she never agrees with anything I say. I tried ³to talk to her about it but she didn't even let me finish one sentence. She stopped ⁴listening to anything I have to say a long time ago. She just walks away. She was such a nice and quiet girl, and now she's very ⁵moody – smiling one moment and screaming the next. And with all her make-up and strange black clothes she ⁶doesn't look like my pretty sweet daughter anymore! Abby, how do I get my daughter back?

WHAT DOES YOUR HOBBY SAY ABOUT YOU?

We usually think of hobbies as a way to have fun, but looking closer psychologists found hidden reasons behind our choices of free-time activities.

Those of us who get too excited, frustrated, or upset during the day tend to choose hobbies that allow them to get rid of these emotions. Some channel them into something productive. Creative activities like music, drawing or writing allow them to take these emotions 'out of their head' and 'put them somewhere else'. When negative emotions produce stress, people often go for sports or computer games to burn this negative energy through physical or emotional involvement.

Then there are people who aren't satisfied with their present situation. Some of them find in their hobbies things that are missing in their lives. For example, if they think of themselves as weak or feel like they have no control over their lives, they are often keen on martial arts or other combat sports, or computer games if they're not into sports. This way they have a place where they feel strong and in charge. Others simply escape into a different world through films, books, computer games, art or gardening. They become part of something exciting or beautiful and simply forget everything else.

Finally, there are those who try to prove something to themselves or to the world. People who are afraid of heights, for instance, often try parachuting. Those afraid of taking risks in general are into extreme sports. And delicate girls get rebellious and take up boxing or football instead of becoming pink ballerinas. Naturally, people also choose hobbies based on their skills, on what's fashionable or simply what's available to them. It's impossible to judge why someone is spending their free time in a particular way without knowing more about them. You could, however, take a long and honest look at your own hobbies and ask yourself 'why this?'

- 1 What do psychologists think about hobbies?
They believe we have hidden reasons for choosing our hobbies.
- 2 Why are computer games good for stress?
Because they allow people to burn/get rid of negative energy/emotions.
- 3 What do people who do gardening and martial arts have in common?
It's possible they both are not satisfied with their situation/ don't like their lives.
- 4 Why do some girls become boxers or footballers?
It's because they want to rebel against/don't like the idea that a girl should be a pink ballerina.
- 5 Why should we ask ourselves 'why this' about our hobbies?
Because looking at our hobbies/hidden reasons behind our choice of hobbies we might discover something about ourselves.

Used to and past simple

Czasu past simple używamy, aby opisać:

- czynności lub sytuacje, które wydarzyły się jeden raz w określonym momencie w przeszłości:
I started a Spanish course last week.
- czynności lub sytuacje, które powtarzały się przez jakiś czas w przeszłości:
Our biology teacher never gave us homework for the weekend.

Tworzenie regularnych form czasu past simple:

- Do większości czasowników dodajemy końcówkę -ed:
want – wanted, wash – washed, enjoy – enjoyed.
- Jeśli czasownik kończy się na literę -e, dodajemy do niego końcówkę -d:
arrive – arrived, like – liked, live – lived, love – loved.
- Jeśli czasownik kończy się na spółgłoskę + -y (cry), y zamieniamy na i oraz dodajemy -ed:
study – studied, cry – cried, carry – carried.
- W przypadku krótkich czasowników zakończonych spółgłoską, podwajamy ostatnią literę i dodajemy -ed:
plan – planned, stop – stopped.

Wiele czasowników ma nieregularne formy czasu przeszłego np.:
write – wrote, give – gave, think – thought, come – came.

W past simple często używamy następujących określeń czasu:
yesterday, the day before yesterday (przedwczoraj), last Monday/week/year, a few minutes/hours/days/weeks/years ago, in 1985, on 12th September 2009.

1) Do the quiz. Then read the text in exercise 2 to check your answers.

- 1 Michael Phelps is a Canadian. b American. c English.
- 2 What is the largest number of Olympic medals anybody has won during their career?
a 11 b 19 c 28
- 3 How many calories does a swimmer who is training hard need to consume each day?
a 12,000 b 7,000 c 3,000

2) Read the text again. Complete gaps 1–4 with sentences a–f. There are two extra sentences.

THE RECORD BREAKER

Michael Phelps is probably the best swimmer in the world. ¹b But maybe they should rather call him the Record Machine, because of his amazing collection of medals and records. So far, this American swimmer has won 77 medals! That includes 28 Olympic medals (23 gold) – more than any other athlete has ever won.

He was always a very energetic child, so when he was 7 years old his older sister suggested he should take up swimming. It turned out that the hyperactive child loved it. Michael later found out that he has ADHD and he always said that swimming helped him to control his energy. ²d His next great success was becoming part of the US Olympic team at the age of 15. A year later he broke his first world record. From then on he just went on collecting medals and records.

How do you become like Michael? Phelps' coach says that to aim for the Olympic gold you must focus on your technique, think about your strategy for each event, and take good care of yourself. That includes a special diet. Phelps' was made up of eggs, pancakes, sandwiches and pasta. These would add up to about 12,000 calories a day. ³f However, runners and swimmers, who train 5 hours a day, need that much.

Retired at 31, after the Olympics in Rio, Phelps is now looking forward to new challenges. ⁴e First of all, he'd like to use his fame to save the environment. He's already working with a cosmetic company on a campaign encouraging people to turn off the water while brushing their teeth. Another idea is to get more involved in business, since Phelps already has his own swimwear brand. He also helps other athletes deal with the stress in professional sport. And when he needs a workout he goes ... cycling.

- a His success is the result of hard work, good planning and the help of people like his trainer and sponsors.
- b He's so fast that some people call him the Baltimore Bullet, and others call him the Flying Fish.
- c That's why Michael created a foundation which teaches children the importance of being active and healthy and makes it possible for children to do sports.
- d His first swimming success came when, aged just 10, he broke the national record for his age group.
- e Coaching younger generations could be one of them, but Michael has already been doing that for years through his foundation and through work with the Boys and Girls Club of America.
- f Of course, for the average person this would be very unhealthy, and even people doing other sports shouldn't follow it without thinking.

3) Complete the phrasal verbs. Check your answers in the text on page 19.

- 1 continue (doing sth) – go on
- 2 appear, become obvious – turn out
- 3 consist of – be made up of
- 4 learn – find out
- 5 feel happy and excited about something that is going to happen in the future – look forward to sth
