

Unit 1 &gt;&gt;&gt; Understand different ways to say 'hello'

A You're at the airport with your family because you have come to greet your visitors from Melbourne, Australia. In the group, there's a mum, a dad and a teenager. How do you greet them? Write two short dialogues, one for the mum and dad and one for the teenager.

B You see your favourite cousin Thomas in the shopping centre. He's with a friend. You don't know this friend. How do you greet them? Write two short dialogues, one for your cousin and one for his friend.

C You're in the town centre in a sports shop with your dad. You see your favourite teacher. You also see a classmate. She is talking to your teacher. How do you greet them? Write two short dialogues, one for you and your classmate and one for you and your teacher.

REFLECTION POINT

It's important to say hello to people in the right way. Be friendly but show respect. Use people's names so that they feel special.

Unit 1 &gt;&gt;&gt; Understand different ways to say 'hello'

A You're at the airport with your family because you have come to greet your visitors from Melbourne, Australia. In the group, there's a mum, a dad and a teenager. How do you greet them? Write two short dialogues, one for the mum and dad and one for the teenager.

B You see your favourite cousin Thomas in the shopping centre. He's with a friend. You don't know this friend. How do you greet them? Write two short dialogues, one for your cousin and one for his friend.

C You're in the town centre in a sports shop with your dad. You see your favourite teacher. You also see a classmate. She is talking to your teacher. How do you greet them? Write two short dialogues, one for you and your classmate and one for you and your teacher.

REFLECTION POINT

It's important to say hello to people in the right way. Be friendly but show respect. Use people's names so that they feel special.